In a land of choice and control, whose voice makes the choice?

Dr Leighton Jay

GOVERNANCE

... determines who has power, who makes decisions, how other players make their voice heard and how account is rendered

- Institute on Governance (http://iog.ca/about-us/defining-governance/)
GOVERNANCE

. . . includes attending to the structures, the processes and the mechanisms by which power is exercised, decisions are made and subsequent actions are taken
(Korhonen et al. 2009:66)
GOVERNANCE

1. who exercises power in the life of someone with intellectual disability?

2. who makes decisions in the life of someone with intellectual disability?

3. what are the structures, processes and mechanisms that determine who has what power to make what decisions? and

4. what are the structures, processes and mechanisms that influence or control the actions that flow from decisions (including how people are held to account)?
Practical helps for me as a parent

- Having courageous friends who walk beside me and help me identify my unhelpful beliefs/assumptions.
- Asking myself ‘what is typical for someone at this age and stage of life?’
- Giving Paul opportunities to tell/show me and to take the lead in his life.
- ‘Uniquely verbal’ NOT ‘non-verbal’ - learning Paul’s language with others.
GOVERNANCE

1. Who exercises power? - Paul increasingly exercises power in his life

2. Who makes decisions? - Paul increasingly makes decisions in his life
GOVERNANCE

3. What structures, processes and mechanisms determine who has what power to make what decisions?

i. The people around Paul pay attention to learning Paul’s language.

ii. We want to know what he thinks, chooses, feels etc. We do this together and separately.

iii. We learn together and encourage each other along the way.
4. What structures, processes and mechanisms influence or control the actions that flow from decisions (including how people are held to account)?

i. We established a microboard that legally requires members to meaningfully consult with Paul.

ii. SW team training, meetings and performance reviews.
The sector and public policy - implications

What to do?

- Good grounded practices
- Push back to agencies, sector leaders etc
- Push for more choices to be made available
- Support and champion leaders in this space
- Get people outside the sector informed, engaged and excited
